Legislative Council
Panel on Administration of Justice and Legal Services

Implementation of the recommendations made by the Law Reform Commission

Background

The reporting mechanism introduced by the Legislative Council (“LegCo”) Panel on Administration of Justice and Legal Services (“Panel”) in 2012 aims to facilitate members of the Panel, as well as of other Panels, to follow up on progress of implementation of the recommendations of the Law Reform Commission (“LRC”) by the relevant bureaux and departments. This is the Secretary for Justice (“SJ”)’s eighth report to the Panel pursuant to this mechanism.

2. In line with the approach adopted for the SJ’s second report made to the Panel in 2014, the table annexed to this report lists the LRC’s recommendations under different categories according to their implementation status (the “Table”), ie:

- (a) recommendations implemented in full;
- (b) recommendations implemented in part;
- (c) recommendations under consideration or in the process of being implemented;
- (d) recommendations rejected by the Government; and
- (e) the Government has no plan to implement the recommendations at this juncture.

3. The information on implementation status which appears in this report is as provided to the LRC by the individual bureaux and departments concerned (as set out in the Table).

Highlights of progress made since SJ's last annual report to the Panel

4. The following paragraphs seek to highlight the more significant developments advised by the relevant bureaux and departments since SJ's last annual report to the Panel:

- (a) Insolvency – Part 2: Corporate rescue and insolvent trading (October 1996) (see item 44 in the Table)

The Financial Services and the Treasury Bureau ("FSTB") announced a package of legislative proposals for the introduction of a statutory corporate rescue procedure and insolvent trading provisions in 2014 and received broad support of the Financial Affairs Panel of LegCo and relevant stakeholders to the legislative exercise.

The drafting of the relevant Bill is now in an advanced stage. Given the complexity and technicalities of the Bill as well as the concerns expressed by various stakeholders in previous exercises, FSTB will organise a fresh round of engagement with stakeholders on specific areas in the draft Bill with a view to finalising the Bill for introduction into LegCo in the first half of the 2020/2021 legislative session.

- (b) Contracts for the supply of goods (February 2002) (see item 46 in the Table)

The Commerce and Economic Development Bureau is examining the latest legislation regarding contracts in Australia, New Zealand and the UK, which have evolved since the LRC made reference to them when formulating the recommendations of the LRC Report. Subject to other competing policy initiatives and legislative priorities, the Bureau would consider in due course the suitability of formulating legislative proposals on the subject.

- (c) Substitute decision-making and advance directives In relation to medical treatment (August 2006) (see item 50 in the Table)

The Food and Health Bureau launched a public consultation on advance directives and related end-of-life care arrangement from 6 September to 16 December 2019. The Bureau is working on a consultation report and will decide on the way forward in light of the feedback.

- (d) Hearsay in criminal proceedings (November 2009) (see item 51 in the Table)

The Department of Justice has prepared the Evidence (Amendment) Bill 2018 to implement the recommendations in the LRC Report on Hearsay in Criminal Proceedings. The Bill was introduced into LegCo on 4 July 2018. A Bills Committee was formed to scrutinize the Bill and five meetings were held. The Bills Committee completed its scrutiny of the Bill, and its report was considered by the House Committee on 5 June 2020.

- (e) Report on Voyeurism and Non-consensual upskirt-photography (April 2019) (see item 59 in the Table)

The Security Bureau is considering the LRC's recommendations, and plans to discuss the item at the relevant LegCo Panel within the 2019/2020 legislative session, to be followed by a consultation, with a view to introducing a bill for the LegCo's scrutiny.

Concluding remarks

5. SJ and the LRC are conscious of the need to follow up closely on the implementation of recommendations made by the LRC. Indeed, progress of implementation of the LRC recommendations is now made a regular item of the LRC's meetings so that members of the LRC can monitor the situation. SJ will continue to closely follow up on the progress with all relevant bureaux and departments.

	Report (month and year of publication) and Responsible Bureau	Implementing legislation or other relevant information, including response from the relevant bureau or department
36	Arrest (November 1992)  Security Bureau	The Bureau has advised: “More than half of the endorsed recommendations have been implemented. The Bureau is still reviewing some of the recommendations in the light of the changes in UK’s Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 and local enforcement experiences with a view to determining the way forward.”
37	Insolvency - Part 3: Winding-up provisions of the Companies Ordinance (July 1999)  Financial Services and the Treasury Bureau	Some technical aspects were implemented by the Companies (Amendment) Ordinance (28 of 2003) enacted in July 2003 amending Cap 32. Having reviewed the key issues addressed in the Report and taking into account the sector’s latest developments, the Bureau has concluded: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● “not to pursue the recommendation to merge corporate insolvency legislation with personal bankruptcy legislation as there is no clear benefit or market demand for such a change;</li> <li>● to continue to rely on established professional sectors to deliver private sector insolvency services, rather than establishing and upkeeping a statutory licensing system at this time, as the latter is considered to be not cost-effective;</li> <li>● on remuneration (fees) of office-holders, the market has operated smoothly in determining the fee level of private sector insolvency services, with disputes settled by the Court’s Taxing Masters, and there is no need to establish an adjudication panel arrangement to determine fees;</li> <li>● the concern that Official Receiver’s Office (ORO) should be adequately funded is noted. ORO’s funding bids, including additional resources as and when necessary, will continue to be processed in accordance with the Administration’s well-established policies and procedures.”</li> </ul> With respect to the other technical amendments recommended in the subject LRC Report, the Bureau has advised that they are addressed by the Companies (Winding-up and Miscellaneous

38	The regulation of debt collection practices (July 2002) Security Bureau	The recommended review of the then limitations imposed on the collection and use of 'positive credit data' was implemented without legislation by the Privacy Commissioner for Personal Data in the Code of Practice on Consumer Credit Data 2002.  The Report's other recommendations were rejected by the Administration in September 2005.
39	Description of flats on sale – Part 3: Local completed residential properties: Sales descriptions and pre-contractual matters (September 2002) Transport and Housing Bureau	The recommendations in respect of completed properties sold first-hand by the original developer were implemented by the Residential Properties (First-hand Sales) Ordinance (Cap 621) (19 of 2012) (July 2012) which regulates the sales of completed and uncompleted first-hand residential properties.  The Bureau has stated that: “The regulation of the sales of second-hand local residential properties is strengthened with the assistance of the Estate Agents Authority (EAA). The EAA has required, among other things, that estate agents must provide information on the saleable area, if available from Rating and Valuation Department (RVD) or the first agreement, of second-hand residential properties to prospective purchasers with effect from 1 January 2013.”
40	Guardianship and custody – Part 3: The family dispute resolution process (March 2003) Home Affairs Bureau	The Report looks at various approaches which may be adopted in resolving family disputes, and focuses particularly on the use of mediation. The Report makes recommendations to strengthen family mediation services and to enhance the family litigation process.  The Bureau has stated that: “With the implementation of the Civil Justice Reform, legal aid has been extended to cover mediation in civil proceedings since 2009. Between 2 April 2009 and 30 April 2020, the Legal Aid Department has approved funding for appointment of mediators in 1473 matrimonial cases. In May 2012, the Judiciary issued a Practice Direction on Family

Furthermore, a Practice Direction on Children’s Dispute Resolution Pilot Scheme has come into effect since October 2012 and has been formalised as standard practice since April 2016. Parents wishing to seek mediation may approach the Integrated Mediation Office set up by the Judiciary for assistance. A Practice Direction on a pilot scheme for private adjudication of financial disputes in matrimonial and family proceedings came into effect on 19 January 2015 and was extended for another three years in 2018. The scheme provides an alternative means for dispute resolution, which aims at furthering the objective of settlement facilitation. The research team commissioned by the Family Council completed a study on the provision of family mediation services in Hong Kong in late 2016. The study confirmed the positive effects of mediation in resolving divorce-related disputes and made a series of recommendations. The Family Council has shared the study findings and recommendations with relevant bureaux/departments and organisations for their reference and follow up actions as appropriate.”
41	Privacy – Part 6: The regulation of covert surveillance (March 2006) Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau	The Interception of Communications and Surveillance Bill was introduced prior to publication of the LRC Report in March 2006 to regulate the conduct of interception of communications and the use of surveillance devices by public officers; and to establish the Office of the Commissioner on Interception of Communications and Surveillance to oversee the compliance by four law enforcement agencies with the relevant requirements. The Bill was passed on 6 August 2006 as Ordinance 20 of 2006 (Cap 589). See also items 42 and 45 below.

There were mixed responses and very divergent views from different sectors of the community. Given the complexity and sensitivity of the policy and political issues involved, the Bureau would consider the 5 Reports as and where appropriate and map out the way forward in consultation with relevant parties." The Bureau has advised that it has taken steps to deal with the LRC Report on Stalking. See item 45 below.
43	Conditional fees (July 2007)	The Report recommended, inter alia, the expansion of the Supplementary Legal Aid Scheme by raising the financial eligibility limits, and increasing the types of cases covered by the Scheme. The financial eligibility limits were raised in May, 2011, and the types of cases were expanded in November 2012. Report's other recommendations were rejected by the Government in October 2010.

		constitutional rights including freedom of the media and freedom of expression, the Bureau commissioned the Centre for Comparative and Public Law of the University of Hong Kong (‘the Consultant’) to study the experience of overseas jurisdictions in implementing their anti-stalking legislation and reported the findings and the Consultant’s recommended formulation to the LegCo Panel on Constitutional Affairs (‘the CA Panel’) in December 2013. Some Members of the CA Panel continued to express strong reservations on the enactment of a piece of stalking legislation and counter-proposed that a ‘specified relations’ approach be further explored. The Bureau has since sought the views of stakeholders who had submitted written views in the 2011/12 consultation, including the Hong Kong Bar Association and the Law Society of Hong Kong. After considering the feedback obtained and input from the Department of Justice, it is clear that none of the various formulations (ie, LRC’s, the Consultant’s and the ‘specified relations’ approach) is supported by CA Panel Members, the major stakeholders or the public, as being able to achieve the objective of providing protection to all people alike against stalking while at the same time avoid inflicting interference to the freedoms of the press and expression. The above being the case, the Bureau is of the view that there are no favourable conditions to pursue the matter further and sought the views of the CA Panel accordingly on 16 June 2014. At that Panel meeting, some Members expressed support for not pursuing the LRC’s recommendations. Regarding the ‘specified relations’ approach, Members noted the in-principle difficulties with this approach and that since the LRC Report was published in 2000, individual pieces of legislation have indeed been amended or administrative measures taken to better control harassment in domestic, landlord-and-tenant, and money lender-borrower relationships, and no Member requested further pursuing such an approach.

After the enactment of legislation against pyramid schemes and unfair trade practices in 2012, the Bureau has completed a public consultation on a proposal to establish a statutory cooling-off period for beauty and fitness services consumer contracts in April 2019. The Bureau is studying the views collected, and will publish a consultation report in due course.</li> <li>● Meanwhile, the Bureau has conducted research to benchmark the latest legislation regarding contracts in Australia, New Zealand and the UK, which have evolved since the LRC made reference to them when formulating the recommendations of the LRC Report.</li> <li>● The Bureau has stated that: “The Bureau is examining the latest laws regarding contracts in the three jurisdictions. 49	Guardianship and custody – Part 4: Child custody and access (March 2005) Labour and Welfare Bureau	A total of 72 recommendations were made on the arrangements in relation to child custody and access, including that Hong Kong should follow jurisdictions such as England and Wales and Australia in applying the parental responsibility model to family law. Some of the recommendations of the Report will fundamentally change the concept of “custody” underpinning the existing family law and have far-reaching implications. In consultation with the Department of Justice, the Home Affairs Bureau, the Social Welfare Department, the Judiciary and other relevant Government Bureaux/Departments, the Labour and Welfare Bureau has prepared the draft Children Proceedings (Parental Responsibility) Bill (the proposed legislation) to follow up the majority of the LRC recommendations. On 25 November 2015, the Bureau launched a four-month public consultation on the proposed legislation. The Bureau advised that “the recommendation to reduce the minimum age of marriage without parental consent from 21 to 18 (Recommendation 69) and the recommendation that a list of circumstances should be set out in the legislation

		to determine when it is appropriate to appoint a separate representative for a child in children proceedings (Recommendation 50) will be dealt with separately.” The public consultation ended on 25 March 2016. The Bureau reported the results of the consultation to LegCo Panel on Welfare Services (LegCo Panel) in May 2017. The results showed that the percentage of views in support of the implementation of the proposed legislation at this stage was about the same as that opposing it (i.e. 34.5% on each side), while another 20% of the views considered the proposed legislation worthy of support in principle, but requested additional resources and support measures as a prerequisite. Besides, the Bureau also noted that two motions were unanimously passed by the LegCo Panel on 22 February 2016 and 8 May 2017 respectively, requesting the Government not to introduce the proposed legislation into the LegCo at this stage, pending the provision of more support measures for divorcing/divorced/separated families. Similar requests were also raised by deputations at the special meeting of the LegCo Panel held on 4 October 2017. Having regard to the views collected during the public consultation and the LegCo Panel's position, the Bureau proposed at the LegCo Panel meeting on 12 March 2018 not to introduce the proposed legislation into the LegCo at this stage. However, the Bureau proposed to, as a matter of priority, increase resources in 2018/2019 to strengthen measures to support divorcing/divorced/separated families, so as to promote the concept of continuing parental responsibility towards children even after divorce, and strengthen co-parenting counselling and parenting coordination service, as well as making the Pilot Project on Children Contact Service a regular service of the Social Welfare Department with service expansion. Meanwhile, the Bureau will work out the major provisions of the proposed legislation for the public's reference so as to

		enhance their understanding of the parental responsibility model in legal terms. The Bureau also hopes to clarify the doubts on the practical impact of the legislative proposal on divorced families, including parents and their children. As soon as the enhanced measures to support divorcing/divorced/separated families have been implemented, the Bureau will consult the stakeholders again on the proposed legislation, and gauge their receptiveness to the legislative proposal, especially the views of those who have put service improvements as a prerequisite to legislation.
50	Substitute decision-making and advance directives in relation to medical treatment (August 2006) Food and Health Bureau	The Bureau has stated that: “The outcome of the public consultation launched in 2009 indicates that while the respondents generally are not opposed to introducing the concept of advance directives as a personal decision, there is no clear consensus or public support for promoting the concept by way of legislation. In July 2010, the Hospital Authority (HA) issued the Guidance for HA Clinicians on Advance Directives in Adults which provides guidelines to HA frontline staff to deal with terminal care in an amicable manner under relevant circumstances. The Guidance was updated in July 2016. In January 2016, HA updated the HA Guidelines on Do Not Attempt Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR), extending the Guidelines to non-hospitalised patients with advanced irreversible illnesses. This facilitates the clinical staff to honour an advance directive refusing CPR of a non-hospitalised patient. While there appears to be more receptiveness toward the information provided and more willingness among the patients and the community to discuss terminal care and the concept of advance directives, there is no substantial change in attitude in the community towards promoting advance directives through legal means. The Bureau considers it more advisable to implement advance directives by way of legislation when there is a greater degree of awareness and consensus over the use of advance directives and that the community is ready for it.

		The Bureau commissioned The Chinese University of Hong Kong ('the CUHK') to conduct a 3-year research study on the quality of healthcare for the ageing in 2015. The purpose of the research is to enhance the quality of healthcare for the elderly and is expected to inform policy in response to the challenge of the ageing population in health care, which also include healthcare services supporting elderly people with chronic diseases and quality of end-of-life care. The research will also analyse the implementation of advance directives and provide recommendations on changes in the legislation required and measures to deal with the ethical and cultural issues. The research team will propose a public education on publicity plan and strategy to promote understanding and acceptance of the concept of advance directives. The research study will also look into the definition of 'mentally incapacitated persons' under the Mental Health Ordinance (Cap 136) in the context of facilitating better end-of-life care. The Bureau launched a public consultation on advance directives and related end-of-life care arrangement from 6 September to 16 December 2019. The Bureau is working on the consultation report and will decide on the way forward in light of the feedback."
51	Hearsay in criminal proceedings (November 2009) Department of Justice	The Department of Justice has advised that: "The Department has prepared the Evidence (Amendment) Bill 2018 to implement the recommendations in the LRC Report on Hearsay in Criminal Proceedings. The Bill was introduced into LegCo on 4 July 2018. A Bills Committee was formed to scrutinize the Bill and five meetings were held. The Bills Committee completed its scrutiny of the Bill, and its report was considered by the House Committee on 5 June 2020."

56	Charities (December 2013) Home Affairs Bureau	The Bureau has stated its stance to be: "The recommendations of the LRC Report on charities are relevant to the purviews of various Government bureaux and departments. Since many recommendations in the LRC Report carry significant implications on charities in Hong Kong in terms of their definition and operation, the Government needs to consider the recommendations thoroughly and carefully. The Bureau has been assigned to co-ordinate inputs from relevant bureaux and departments in formulating a response to LRC's recommendations for the Government's overall consideration. The Bureau has been actively following up the co-ordination with a view to formulating a response for the Government's consideration as soon as possible. In this process, the Bureau will make reference to the improvement measures recommended in the Director of Audit's Report No 68 (Audit Report) as well as in the Public Accounts Committee Reports No 68 and 68A (PAC Reports) when co-ordinating

57	Excepted Offences under Schedule 3 to the Criminal Procedure Ordinance (Cap 221) (February 2014) Security Bureau	The Bureau has stated: “The recommendations of the LRC Report on Excepted Offences may have implications on law and order as well as judicial procedures. Noting there were also varying comments and concerns raised during the public consultation stage in support of either retaining or expanding the relevant provisions besides repealing them, the Security Bureau has been reviewing the relevant crime trends in assessing the potential implications of the recommendations, and will coordinate and review the Government’s overall position.”
58	Adverse possession (October 2014) Development Bureau	The main recommendations are that the existing provisions on adverse possession should be retained since they offer a practical solution to some of the land title problems, while the law of adverse possession should be recast under the prospective registered land system in Hong Kong by introducing a notification scheme under which the registered owner will be notified if a squatter of registered title land applies for registration after 10 years’ uninterrupted adverse possession. Other recommendations recommended changing or clarifying the law as laid down in three Court of Final Appeal cases. Another recommendation sought to clarify the common law applicable to Hong Kong. The Bureau has stated its stance to be: “The Government has noted the LRC’s recommendations set out in its report on adverse possession published on 20 October 2014. 		on the land system of Hong Kong and inevitably involves complicated issues in various aspects such as legal, land ownership, conveyancing and land management, the Government needs to consider them carefully. The Bureau, in conjunction with the Lands Department and the Land Registry, is actively studying those recommendations that are relevant to the Bureau for mapping out the way forward. Various issues such as the policy implications on land title and land administration, the interface with the Land Titles Ordinance (Cap 585), legal implications of altering the principles established in past Court rulings through legislative changes and operational considerations, are being examined. The diverse views of stakeholders over some of the recommendations as recorded in the LRC Report also need to be taken into account. The Government will examine the issues carefully before deciding the next steps and the relevant timeline.”
59	Report on Voyeurism and Non-consensual upskirt-photography (April 2019) Security Bureau	The Bureau has stated that: “The Report recommends the introduction of a new and specific offence of voyeurism to deal with acts of non-consensual observation or visual recording of another person for a sexual purpose; and a new and specific offence in respect of non-consensual upskirt-photography. The Security Bureau is considering the LRC’s recommendations, and plans to discuss the item at the relevant Legislative Council Panel within the 2019/2020 legislative session, to be followed by a public consultation, with a view to introducing a bill for the Legislative Council’s scrutiny.”
60	Review of substantive sexual offences (December 2019) Security Bureau	The Bureau has stated that: “The Government is carefully studying the substantial number of recommendations made in the review report. The Government notes that the LRC will publish a consultation paper on the sentencing of sexual offences in due course, and will consider the recommendations in tandem.”

Malpractices, insufficient information available to purchasers and projects where construction works were not completed were common at the time. Given the outcome of the EAA’s research on the effectiveness of the recommended regulatory scheme, instead of implementing the recommendations as set out in the LRC Report, the Bureau adopted an alternative approach, under which the EAA and the Consumer Council stepped up their public education efforts to raise the awareness of the public on the risks of purchasing uncompleted residential properties situated outside Hong Kong.”</li> </ul> The Bureau has further observed that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● “The result of stepping up public education efforts has been very positive. In particular, given the advancement of information technology since the publication of the LRC Report, it is now very easy for vendors of residential properties situated outside Hong Kong to directly carry out their sales and promotional activities in Hong Kong through the internet. The question of legal jurisdiction is not an issue easy to resolve.</li> <li>● In light of the above, the Bureau is inclined not to pursue the specific recommendations of the 1997 LRC Report.</li> <li>● However, the Bureau will continue to monitor the situation. At present, the EAA and the Consumer Council provide regular feedback on complaints relating to the sale of non-local residential properties in Hong Kong to this Bureau. When the then Trade and Industry Panel of the LegCo was consulted in 1999, strong objection to the recommendations was raised from trade representatives. Some considered it unfair to hold a party, such as an importer, liable if that party did not have full control over the safety of the product, while others were concerned about the likely increase in litigation and compliance costs. The Bureau has stated its stance to be: “As the community is unlikely to reach any consensus on
